

FEE

Description of the project

The FEE (Foundation for Environmental Education) Head office is located in Sydhavn in Copenhagen. Our office is shared with Friluftsrådet (The Danish Outdoor Council). The office arrangement provides for a very international working environment. Permanent staff members are of different nationalities – from Denmark, Ireland, France, Sweden and Poland. Apart from the permanent staff, FEE has more than 80 member organisations in over 65 countries with whom the volunteer will be working daily.

Volunteer profile

- keen interest in environmental education
- fluent at written and spoken English is highly appreciated

Volunteering at FEE

- the volunteer will be involved in all FEE activities on equal footing with permanent staff
- the volunteer will be engaged in a broad array of work areas; internal and external communication, PR, designing and planning activities for programmes and projects, preparing and participating in various types of meetings as well as ongoing administrative tasks in the office.
- the volunteer will also have an opportunity to participate in international meetings and take part in discussions about programmes and projects
- Two volunteer positions
- One volunteer with an interest in environmental aspects and that might like to work on the Blue Flag and Eco-Schools programmes.
- The other volunteer FEE would like to have a high standard of communication skills and that might like to work on implementing our communication strategy.
